OECS MODULE 2 ASSESSMENT ANSWER KEY

1. A trademark is a word, phrase, symbol or design, or a combination of words, phrases, symbols or designs, that identifies and distinguishes the source of the goods of one party from those of others.

A service mark is the same as a trademark, except that it identifies and distinguishes the source of a service rather than a product. The USPTO uses the terms “trademark” and “mark” to refer to both trademarks and service marks.

2. (2 of 5 answers)
  - Constructive notice to the public of the registrant’s claim of ownership of the mark;
  - A legal presumption of the registrant’s ownership of the mark and the registrant’s exclusive right to use the mark nationwide or in connection with the goods and/or services listed in the registration;
  - The ability to bring an action concerning the mark in federal court;
  - The use of the U.S. registration as a basis to obtain registration in foreign countries; and
  - The ability to file the U.S. registration with the U.S. Customs Service to prevent importation of infringing foreign goods.
3. You may use the federal registration symbol “®” only after the USPTO actually registers a mark, and not while an application is pending.

  7. A good logo conveys something positive about your company.
  8. (2 reasons)
    - Colors are another tool to help customers remember who you are and for you to convey a feeling about your company.
    - Colors also go through fads, so be careful to choose a color that won't be dated too quickly.
    - It is important to be careful about how many colors you use in your business. If you use too many, it can become expensive to print your stationery, business cards, packaging, and so on.
  9. Before developing a mission statement, it is important to create a vision statement in order to express the vision of the company's future. The vision statement serves as the foundation of your business.
