

ALL Living Is Experiencing Shift

AWAKENING TO A SHIFT IN CONSCIOUSNESS

Good day! My name is Joy, and thank you for allowing me into your space. I am new to the Women's Information Network (WIN) and I am pleased to have been asked to participate in their forum. Dr. Paula Fellingham, the creator of WIN, and I had a "get to know you" conversation after participating in a recent event where Paula was the host and I was one of the speakers. I shared with her my passions, and that I was guided to create content based on new discoveries, experiences and spiritual evolution. I knew, at some point, that a magnetic attraction would manifest, and to be ready. Here I AM.

I was asked why I would make a great thought leader. I responded... because I understand innovation, and by combining new discoveries with experiences, successes and evolution of thought, I can help women adjust and prepare for the other side of what we are experiencing. We, the women of the world, can now take a stand in our individual greatness, as divine feminine energy is ushered into this new paradigm that we are living into. I understand if you can't see light at the end of this very long troublesome tunnel. That's because we are bombarded with negative representations of the shift. There is, however, a positive side to this transformation that isn't on broadcast news. The networks aren't broadcasting good news repetitively as much as they spread negative news. Also, keep in mind that all living on the planet is experiencing this shift in consciousness, and contrary to what we were taught to believe, this can NOT be the end of the world. We are living through the end of an era and the beginning of a new era. While humans are perpetrating fighting, killing, hating and battling with themselves and each other, the animal kingdom has shown evidence of this shift, and some have switched gears on us. A shift in consciousness is evident and very few people are really paying attention to 100% proof that we are ushering in a love frequency, and it is here! We just need to tap into it and when we do, your entire way of thinking shifts. We are then able to gain a new view of life, we will be able to gain a new future as a result, and all of it is in divine order for all who participates. Now is the time to pay close attention.

Animals have throughout time alerted us to cosmic and environmental sudden changes. Today, we see evidence of a shift in consciousness in all living, good and bad. Representing “good” shifts in consciousness amongst animals, we see now that dogs and cats are best friends. Mice and cats get along. Just recently, I watched a video of a female lion protecting a baby deer from another female lion. Can you believe that? You can search for these videos at your leisure.

What is unique about this very perplexing discovery is the timing and accessibility to these videos. This shift in consciousness reveals animals’ respect for the life of other creatures. If only humans will take note and govern themselves accordingly. To see it is awe inspiring and a very clear indication of the direction that we are living into. This kind of love and honor and respect is a feminine energy. This is the divine feminine powerful love energy that is within all living on this planet. Accessing this gift and activating it, has to be accomplished first from within, then without.

I will be engaging you with ways in which we can prepare for the shift into the new paradigm that awaits us. If, however, you feel as if we are far away from this love frequency, I invite you to subscribe to this platform so that you can find out why you can’t see it, because it is there to see if you so desire. Perhaps you feel lost and disconnected. Or, maybe you see what’s happening and you resonate with the discoveries, wisdom and experiences that I will be sharing with you. It is important that our hearts and minds are in harmony. Where we go from here is completely up to you. I have plans for us that can elevate and help us gain a new life financially as well as spiritually. Before we get into how I plan to gain a new life, I will be talking about 2020 and how it is preparing like hearted people to come together. After that, you will hear me speak at International Women’s Day 2021. Taking what we learned in 2020 and applying it in the new paradigm beginning 2021.

In the meantime, I look forward to engaging with you and elevating our hearts and spirits collectively for the greater good in ways that works for everyone.

With love,
Joy
